

Bodzsár, É.B., Susanne, C. (2006, Eds) Human Evolution: Facts and Factors. EAA Biennial Books, 4. Eötvös University Press, Budapest. pp. 191. ISBN 963 463 8368

- Kordos, L.: The endochranial cast of Rudapithecus. 9–20
- Turbón, D.: Behavioural inferences related to the earliest out of Africa (1.8 my) 21–32
- Condemi, S.: 150 years of Neanderthal studies: Old questions, new answers. 33–47
- Maureille, B., Rougier, H.: The Neanderthal lineage: Origin, evolution and extinction. 49–56
- Hamilton, A.: Kinship and ontology: the success of Homo sapiens. 57–85
- Bogin, B.: Childhood begets children: Human reproductive success in life history perspective. 87–98
- Tillier, A-m.: Earliest modern humans in Eurasia: Evidence from the Near East. 99–115
- Pinhasi, R., Teschler-Nicola, M., Prossinger, H., Shaw, P.: Diachronic trends in dental dimensions of late Pleistocene and early Holocene European and Near Eastern populations. 117–137
- Gibert, M., Amory, S., Le Berre Semenov, M., Sevin, A., Alekseev, A.N., Keyser, C., Ludes, B., Crubézy, E.: Evolution of populations from oriental Siberia and the spatial Altai/Baikal complex using mtDNA haplogroup frequencies. 139–158
- Grassivaro, P., Tita, E., Viviani, F.: At the roots of female genital modifications (FGMO). 159–169
- Roede, M., Verduin, F.: Female circumcision/female genital mutilation (FGM) and African attempts to stop the practice. 171–177
- Susanne, C.: Human evolution: Rationalism versus creationism. 179–191